

WHERE UKRAINE IS HEADED: THE ROAD TO EUROPE

Roy Gardner

Chancellor's Professor of Economics and West European Studies, Indiana University; Academic Director, Kyiv School of Economics, (Kyiv)

Ukraine has made great strides towards a market economy since declaring independence from the USSR in 1991. It is now closer economically to Europe than ever before. Challenges remain on the road to Europe, both external (Russia) and internal (domestic politics)

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 2 12 NOON

CISAC CONFERENCE ROOM
ENCINA CENTRAL (2ND FLOOR)

RSVP REQUIRED BY 5PM OCTOBER 1 ON FCE.STANFORD.EDU

CO-SPONSORED BY THE CENTER FOR RUSSIAN, EAST EUROPEAN AND EURASIAN STUDIES & THE FORUM ON CONTEMPORARY EUROPE